Digital Danger Zones: Protecting Kids in a Connected World

Presented by the Pennsylvania Attorney General's Office
Office of Public Engagement

Monday, January 11, 2027

6:00 p.m. to 7:00 p.m.

Community Room
Bear Creek Community Charter School

This program is intended for parents.

Children and teens are growing up in a digital world that offers incredible opportunities for connection, creativity, and learning—but also exposes them to risks that many adults never encountered in their own childhood. Social media, gaming platforms, messaging apps, and artificial intelligence have transformed how young people interact with others and how quickly information can spread.

This practical and engaging workshop helps families better understand today's online landscape and provides tools to guide children toward safe, responsible, and informed digital choices.

This session focuses on the ways everyday online activity can shape a child's reputation and future opportunities. Parents will explore how social media use affects digital footprints, why online speech has real-world consequences, and how issues such as cyberbullying and sexting can lead to serious personal and legal outcomes.

Light refreshments will be served.

This is a free event and is open to the general public (parents) – regardless of what school your child attends.
